Dear Grade 3 Families,

Thank-you to all families who were able to come to parent/teacher interviews this week!

In Language Arts, we completed our descriptive "Scarecrow" paragraphs. We started by brainstorming different topics and filling in a writing organizer. We then learned how to take our ideas and turn them into a paragraph.

In readers workshop we continued to talk about different ways readers can understand a story. We continue to do comprehension checks (who is in the story, and what's happened) as this is super important when we read. We also reviewed about how avid readers create visuals in their heads. They can think about what the character looks like, what it's doing, and how it might react. We then discussed about making predictions while we read. We can do this by using the information in the story that we already know to help us make a prediction of what might happen next.

In Science, we learned about what erosion was, and what're some ways to prevent erosion from happening. We conducted two experiments where we used both wind (a hairdryer) and rain (water) to see how it eroded soil. We also completed our Rocks and Minerals Unit with our test on Thursday.

In Social, this week we discussed the election results and compared the real election results with the student Vote we did last Friday. We also began talking about how Peru, Tunisia, Ukraine and India make decisions in their countries.

Health Day (Which was on Friday Oct 18th) was a great success! The 1-3 classes had the opportunity to learn about some very important health concepts Friday afternoon. They learned about fire safety, Halloween safety, how to do dance, and about dental health.
